Questions and Answers about the International Services Districts Business and Occupation Tax Credit

In 1998, the Legislature enacted RCW 82.04.44525 that established a business and occupation (B&O) tax credit for the creation of new employment positions dedicated to providing certain services to international customers. The employment positions providing the international services must be located in specific geographical areas.

What are the geographical areas for purposes of the tax credit?

An eligible area is either a community empowerment zone under RCW 43.63A.700 or a contiguous group of census tracts that meets the unemployment and poverty criteria of RCW 43.63A.710 and is so designated by ordinance of the governing body of a city or legislative authorities of contiguous cities with a population of greater than 80,000. This provision applies to counties that do not contain a community empowerment zone. At this time there are community empowerment zones in Seattle, Bremerton, Tacoma and Yakima. Designated census tracts have been authorized as International Services Districts in Spokane, Vancouver and Everett. Maps showing the eligible areas are available on the Department of Revenue's web site at: <http://dor.wa.gov>.

How much is the tax credit?

The amount of the credit is $3,000 per year for each qualified employment position created. If an eligible position is created after July 1st of a given year, the credit is reduced to $1,500 for that year. If the position is created before July 1st, the full amount of credit is available. Additionally, $3,000 in credit can be taken in each of the following four years if the position is maintained for those four years.

What is a qualified employment position?

A qualified employment position is a permanent full-time position that provides international services. If an employee leaves employment, the position is considered filled if the employer is either training or recruiting a replacement employee.

Do existing employees qualify for the tax credit?

If an existing employee moves into a new employment position that provides international services and a replacement is hired to fill the position of that employee, the new position is eligible for the tax credit. In all cases, the position that generates the tax credit must be a new position created after July 1, 1998.

Does the credit have to be used in the year it is earned?

The credit can be accrued and carried over until it is used. The credit amount cannot be refunded.

Does a business have to apply for the tax credit?

No. There is no application or prior approval required for a business to take the tax credit. However, when businesses use the tax credit, the Research Division of Department of Revenue may survey those businesses to determine the effectiveness of the tax credit in creating new jobs.

How does a business take the tax credit?

If a business has created new employment positions that provide international services, the business states the amount of credit they are taking in the “Credits” section (Part IV) on the Combined Excise Tax Return. The records of the business must record the amount of credit earned, taken, and available for future tax returns.

What specific information does the business have to maintain for verification of credits taken?

- ◆ The law requires that the business have information available that includes:
- ◆ Employment records for the previous six years;
- ◆ Information relating to description of international service activity engaged in at the eligible location by the person; and
- ◆ Information relating to customers of international service activity engaged in at that location by the person.
